W ALLEN SCHOOL UNDERGRADUATE NEWSLETTER

April 2018:

The Allen School Undergraduate Newsletter is brought to you by ACM, ACM-W and SAC. This newsletter brings you the latest monthly news in our undergraduate community, and is a reflection of you! If you have suggestions on how we can improve it or topics that you'd like in future issues, feel free to submit a response at https://goo.gl/forms/AK4FeJfdMJcZGEzs1.

Upcoming Events:

- ACM Student Tech Talk Series : 4/10, CSE 305, 3:30 pm
- Undergraduate Leadership Elections Information Session : 4/11, Gates Commons, 4:30 pm
- Undergraduate Research Night : 4/17, EEB 125, 4:30 pm
- ACM- W Paint the Town with Indeed : 4/24, 4:00 pm

Undergraduate Research:

The Computing Research Association (CRA) recognized three of our Allen School undergraduates with 2018 Outstanding Undergraduate Research Awards. Please congratulate Kimberly Ruth, Deric Pang and Preston Jiang for their work! You can learn more about what they do at goo.gl/9n15dT.

Welcome to our new admits!

This quarter we welcome a new class of students into the Allen School undergraduate class. If this is your first quarter in the Allen School, welcome! We're all here to provide an inclusive, exciting, and motivational community to help you excel.

Please feel free to reach out to any of the undergraduate student groups if you have questions about how you can get involved or have concerns! We're here to help you in every way we can.

Be sure to configure your email settings so that you regularly see emails from the undergraduate groups so that you can stay up to date.

Good luck with your first quarter!

Extracurriculars + Outreach + Awards:

Many undergraduate and faculty members of the Allen School recently attended SIGCSE 2018, a conference that provides an opportunity to discuss Computer Science education. Learn more at https://sigcse2018.sigcse.org/.

The University of Washington also recognized four Allen School undergraduates as Husky 100. Please congratulate Amanda Chalfant, Melissa Medsker, Kimberly Ruth and Aishwarya Mandyam!

In the last week of Spring Break, three undergraduates won the Best College Hack award at DefHack, a hackathon hosted at Microsoft. Please congratulate Nicole Riley, Sasha Klezovich and Karishma
